Prentiss and Word, who claim to supersede them, by virtue of a more recent and regular election, the history of which proceedings, pro and con, are already before the public.

Messrs. Prentiss and Word were admitted to -rate within the bar, with the right to argue the medits of their case to the House, and had previously put upon the tables of the members a prepared and sent to the House a written argument in support of his own and his colleague's claims, which being read, a motion-was made to print, and it was suggested, that it would be proper to print upon both sides, as well the statements or arguments; of Prenties and Word, as those of Claiborne and Gholson. In course of the debate upon this subject, Mr. Wise of Vingisia semarked, as a fact, that Mesora Prentise and Word, had paid the expense of printing in their own case, intimating, at the same time. the propriety of putting, both parties upon an equal footing. If did not seem to me that any imputation or insinuation, was intended by Mr. Wise to the prejudice of Gholson and Claiborne. But Mr Cholson disenvered, or affected to dis--sever some preside tions of a design on his part, werely, to becape the cost of sustain. ing his can by a charge to the Government, and preceeding his remarks by warm words; addressed in pointed allusion to Mr. Wise, that his insinuations were uncorthy of him and his station. Mr Wise, with exasperated warmth, turned to Gholson and said wif ignorance and impudence constitute a blackguard there he stands !!" to which Gholson replied (in the until 2, and was kept up with the greatest spirit midst of cries of order) you are a scoundrel and on both sides, The Buffele Commercial Adverderly. The House made attempts, under its rules, on motion of Mr. Mercer, to restrain the two members from any further prosecution of the quarrel, but, without coming to any result.

The attack, upon this occasion, at least, i believe is generally thought to have been unprovoked on the part of Wise,  the words uttered by him, that drew the frowning rebuke from Gholson; as being unworthy of the man and his station, were neither understood, nor intended, by, Mr. Wits as personal. This perhaps is not otherwise of much importance, than a making it proper for Gholson to challenge, as Wise did not choose to shun any occasion to express unequivocally his contempt of Gholson in terms and mean't offensive as he could utter, and it is believed that being convinced that his epithets were properly bestowed, he will not in -any manner retract their: Pherefore you may expect soon to hear, that blood has ended this untortunale quarrel, and so Cod defend the

The following is the official account by Captain Drew of the Capparolul the Caroline, by which it will be seen that there was some fight. ing on board:

Copy of a letter from Captain Drew, Command or Royal Navy, to the Hon. Allan N. McNah, Col. Commander her majesty's forces.

Had Quarters, Chippewa, 30th Dec; 1837 Sir I have the honor to inform you that in obedience to your commands to burn, mink or destroy the piration steam vessel which had been plying between Navy Island and the American-affore the whole of yesterday, I ordered a look out, to be kept upon her, and at about 5 P. M. of yesterday, when the day had closed in Mr. Harris, of the Royal Navy, reported the vessel to tal as having moved off Navy Island I immediately directed five boats to be armed and manned with 45 volunteers, and at about eleven o'clock, P. M. we pushed off from the shore for Navy Island, when not finding her her moored between-the leland and the main

I then assembled the boats off the point of the island, and dropped quietly down upon the steamer; we were not discovered until within twenty yards of her; when the sentry upon the gangway hailed us, and asked for the countersigu, which I told him we would give when we got un voucu, he than fact upon us, when we Live, this District cost a tremendous Van Buren immediately boarded and found from twenty to thirty men upon her decks, who were easily overcome, and in two minutes she was in our possession. As the current was running strong, and our position close to the falls of Ningara, deemed it most prudent to bain the vessel, but previously to setting ther on fire we took the precaution to loose fier from her moorings, and turn her out in the streams to prevent the postee brought before the House a statement of sibility of the destruction of any thing like American property. In short, all those on board the steamer who did not resist, were quiborne, sitting menibers from the State of Missis elly put on shore, as I thought it possible there might be American citizens on board. Those who assailed us were of course dealt with according to the neares of war-

-I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of the officers and men who accompanied me; their confines and bravery show what may be expected from them, when their country requires their services; where all behaved so well, it would be invidious in me to particularize any one, but I may be excused for mentioning the gallant conduct of Lieut. Shepherd McCormack or the Reyal Navy, who nobly seconded me, and printed statement of the grounds of their claim had to encounter several of the pirates in the fore Mr. Claiborne being confined by sickness had part of the vessel, by which, I regret to ear, he has received five desperate wounds; we have also two others wounded, and I regret to add that five or six of the enemy were killed. A return of our wounded I beg to subjoin. I have the honor to be, Sir,

IMPORTANT INTERAGENCE FROM NAVY ISLAND.

We have accounts from Ruffile to Siturday evening last. The 24th British regiment arrived at Chippews on the 9th under the command of Col. Hughes, well provided with field pieces, bombs, and all other numitions of war. Hughes immediately assumed the command of half past 2 o'clock, for the purpose of taking

On the night of the 12th a tremendous cannonading was commenced from Chippews upon Navy Island. It commenced at 11 and lasted ser gavs :

"Near Schlager it sounded like an incessant roar of artillery. The wind being favorable, it was heard distinctly in this city. Asfriend says he counted about 300 reports. In addition to cannon shots, the Canadians threw a large number of bombs. A letter from the Island, dated and that the two Houses would go into Conven adjourned, leaving the parties to sleep, if sleep this morning, to a young gentleman of this city, toon to administer to him the customary naths of they may, under an excilement so highly bellig. states that prope were killed, but it is reported that some 8 or 10 were wounded. We have no information on which we can rely, as to the loss if the British."

An Extra from the office of the Buffalo Advertiser, dated 5 o'clock. Saturday evening says "While putting this in type, a heavy cannonsding from Navy Island could be distinctly heard amid the usual noise and bustle of our streets. We shall probably learn this evening the result. Pretty warm work may be confidently anticipated. The regulars now opposite the Island, will-hardly be as peaceably disposed as were the volunteers under Mc Nabb."

LATER.

Gov. Marcy and Gen. Scott arrived at Buffalo at midnight on the 11th inst. and the prospect was of an immediate termination of the warfare. On the following evening, Gen. Wool, Adjutant Gen. McDonald, Col. Worth, and Lt. Keyes of the United States Army, also arrived: at Buffalo. The Buffelo Journal of the 13th. has the following interesting items:

The Eagle Hotel was thronged from morning to night yesterday, by our citizens, anxious to pay their respects to Gov. Marcy and Gen Scott. The City has been kept in such constant commotion for the last few weeks, that every inhabitant, except those where trade is agitation, was heartily desirous of seeing quiet once more restored, and the arrival of Gow. M. and Gon. & was bailed as the harbinger of peace.

In the afternoon, the Governor, accompanied by Gen. 8: reviewed in the Court House Park, part of Gen. Randall's brigade; and afterwards the portion of Gen. Burt's brigade of Infantry that is now in the city. The latter were reviewed on Court-street, between Pearl and Franklin atreets, very near the same ground where Gen. 8. drilled his men for some months before the battles at Chippews and Lundy's I ane, in 1814. The fine companies of the City Guards passed in review in front of the Eagle/Tavern.

lu the evening, the members of the Common Council waited upon bis Excellency and Gen S. after which the members of the several fire and book and ladder companies, in full chetume, delied to pay their respects.

It will be seen by our report of Legislative proceedings, to day, that the oath of office was administered to Mr. Kent on Friday, and that the Councillors, Secretary of State and State Treasurer were elected all good Whigs, and good men. Mr. Kent's message was delivered probably this morning. We shall present a copy to our readers at as early an hour as pos-

TREASURY Norms. The following extract from the N. Y. Commercial of yesterday evening, furnishes a striking connectary on the proseedings of the administration.

"No longer ago than yesterday, we ourselves saw a large bag of specie extorted by the Post Office Department. The debtor tendered treasury notes the government's own paper which were refused by the Department, and we saw the specie paid. And yet the government and its organs are hunting down the banks like so many hounds, for not redeeming their liabilities. with specie instanter, while the government itself disorans its own paper!

NORTH EASTERN BOUNDARY. It appears by the proceedings of Congress on Monday, that the despatches brought lately by a special messenger from England, was no less than the delinite-answer of her majesty's cabinet to the faul demand of our Executive on the British Coverainent, in relation to the disputed North Eu. era Boundary.

NEW AND VARUABLE SCHOOL

s believed that the book is one which has been ve) much wanted in our common schools, and in deed it was compiled at the requision many of of known atchner and long experience in his profession. The pieces in this book, are chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth, and 14- believed, will have a healths moral influence n those schools in which it is adopted. The book omes at a very low price and has been adopted in great many Schools with decided approbation and having been sterorty ped, is free from the dunger of having any alternious made in it, which is the groatest trouble with ellectical books. Tiose connected with schools or interested in any manner, are requested in call and chamine in SMITHA LENNO, 11 West Market Square
